MORE ABOUT HOMEBINDER

HomeBinder is the leading home management software for homeowners that is set up and delivered by home inspectors. See the video below for details on how inspectors can improve their business and help homeowners in less than two minutes per inspection.

9 Ways HomeBinder Helps Your Business:

1. Differentiates your service
2. Ancillary service to increase the price of your inspections
3. Included recall service for client that either you or they populate
4. A liability reduction tool through enhanced communication
5. Builds your referral network through branded maintenance email reminders
6. Report delivery and archive service for your clients
7. Value added service that clients can use for years
8. Marketing tool for inspectors that work with real estate agents
9. A way to share local recommended professionals (plumber/electrician) with your clients

Home inspectors work hard to educate their clients, however most home buyers are so focused on the transaction that they don't paying attention to the detailed advice given to them. As a result filters go unchanged, chimneys go unswept, sprinkler systems break, and septic tanks back up.

HomeBinder is the standard digital repository for home information and helps homeowners manage their largest asset. As a result, HomeBinder can send homeowners important maintenance reminders and notify them if one of their major appliances is recalled.

It only takes a couple of minutes at the end of the inspection to set up the homeowner with a maintenance schedule for key property tasks. The binder is then transferred to the owner and they have full control over the schedule as well as have the ability to store everything from paint colors, to pictures and important documents in their private binder. It even has capital expense tracking and home inventory services. HomeBinder is the most comprehensive home management tool in the market.
